ANTELOPE VALLEY CORVETTE CLUB BY DIANE BOCCADORO

What has two horns, goes about 40 miles an hour, and moves with style and grace? No, not a pair of Corvettes in first gear. (Well, maybe, but that's not the answer we're looking for.) An antelope. And here we find that one of nature's speediest four-legged creatures shares its name with a club for one of the world's speediest four-wheeled creatures.

The Antelope Valley Corvette Club, located in California's High Desert, is observing several silver anniversaries this year. The club turns 25 in 1993 and is celebrating a quarter-century of Corvette fun and excitement. And as a member of the Western States Corvette Council, the AVCC has the distinct privilege of hosting the WSCC's 25th annual convention, to be held July 4-10, at the Antelope Valley Inn, Lancaster, Calif. The event, open to all Corvettes, promises fun for everyone, with great food, pool parties, and WSCC-sanctioned events at Los Angeles County Raceway and "The Streets of Willow Springs" at Willow Springs International Raceway.

There are other events for AVCC members to participate in year-round, too. Rallies, car shows, parades and cruises are just the beginning. AVCC's Vettes are the most popular vehicles in the area for high school and college homecomings. Nearly every fall weekend finds one of the cars at some school event. The club is also very supportive of other local Corvette clubs and has earned several "Club Participation" awards for its cooperative efforts. And members who have speed in their blood take to the local tracks racing GT-1 cars and SCCA Solo II Autocross.

The AVCC is a fun-loving club devoted to enjoying Vettes and saving the wave. If you'd like to join the cause, contact the Antelope Valley Corvette Club, Box 2588, Lancaster, CA 93534-2588. ☎
